Rodney is a former city in Jefferson Co. and was founded in 1828. It came within three votes of being the capital of the Mississippi Territory. It died when the Mississippi River changed course.