First built in 1846-47 for $8000 and then rebuilt in 1853-54 because of structural issues (probably Yazoo Clay), the Jackson City Hall was spared during the Civil War and used as a hospital. It is an example of the Greek Revival style of architecture. It also contains a Masonic Hall.